

30 UNDER 40

Who are tomorrow's superstar private equity lawyers? To find out, we asked a cross-section of industry participants, trusted contacts and law firms themselves – who were gracious enough to name top junior talent at rival firms if they were to submit their own nominations – to come up with a triple-digit list of nominations. After much debate, we whittled the list down to this elite 30.

---

Meyer Fedida, 37

Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton

US - New York

Tax (partner)

One of the few tax gurus on our list, Cleary's Meyer Fedida advises private investment firms on the tax aspects of their funds' formations and operations, working as TPG's go-to tax lawyer for more than 10 years over five different funds. Fedida's tax expertise also extends into M&A, where he has worked on deals like the TPG, PAG Asia Capital and OTPP acquisition of DTZ and the subsequent acquisitions of Cassidy Turley and of Cushman & Wakefield by DTZ. Fedida distinguishes himself as trilingual (fluent in English, French and Hebrew) and is a member of the New York Private Investment Funds Tax Forum.

---

CLEARY
GOTTLIEB